

- 21 Free radical addition is a mechanism used in the synthesis of some addition polymers. Alkene monomers will polymerise in the presence of a radical initiator ($\text{In}^\bullet$). For instance, the synthesis of polyethene begins as such.

Which chain could not have arisen from free radical addition?

