

- 1 A beam of particles contains protons and electrons. All particles approach an electric field at the same speed.

Which diagram indicates the deflection of these particles as they pass through the electric field?

